BERNARD STAVED IT OFF

Defeat Threatened the Engravers Wash., 27 48 .360 When He Went in the Box.

Pulled Them Out of the Hole and Won the Game-Both Teams Played Slow Ball.

There is no emestion about Ion Bernard. eng the best twirier in the Departmental League, for he has proved his title to it on occasions during the past few weeks. Yesterday afternoon in the game with the Government Printing Office team at National Park, after Ospada bad practically lost the game in the first two innings the successful West Washington lad went in the box and by striking out eleven men and holding the rest of the aggregation down to three scratch hits, won the con test for the Bureaus in great siyle.

Neither team played an all-star exhibition in the field; on the contrary both more played very sleepy ball. The os were minus "Mike" Finherty to lose their beads in every exciting sirontion. Harry Leach could but cov territory around third base as well as utual, but he made up in the field with his excelent and timely work with the stick, punchtrue out three nice singles and a pretty double rather weak atwhert, and even Jack Madigan got all tangled up at second base.

Cospada's arm would not permit his pitch tog and Bernard had to be substituted Joe as usual smiled sweetly upon his many opponents who stepped up to the plate with that "home run" expression upon their faces and retired so movidy in that Mainty Casey" style. Much credit is due Beach for the excellent game he caught. The Prioters were greatly strengthened by the reappearance of Horen, Muchier and Richards, but the few "has beens" whom

Capt. Havens invists upon playing put up their usual off-color exhibition. The boys all fielded well enough but their stumbling points wers at the but. In the seven innings, with over a score of chances, they failed to connect success-fully with Hernard's delivery more than three times. Mr. Porter House, of the Infantry team, umpired the game and al-though his eye for balls and strikes was good he was a little off on a couple of base

(Special to The Times.) Baltimore, Aug. 3.—The Schators were this year, a game creditable alike to both eams. It was a pitchers' battle from the start, and both twirlers covered themselves

McMahon made his appearance in the box for Baltimore the first time in a year, and showed that he is once more thoronghty himself. He had the mest perfect control, combined with all his old speed and that himself. He had the meet perfect control, combined with all his old speed and that sharp break to his curves which makes such havocamong opposing batsmen. He seemed in good condition, and was as strong at the finish as at the start. He held the Senators down to six hits and struck out bail—Merrat. Time, 1:30. Umpire, O'Day. six men, Cartwright twice,

PITCHERS WERR PHEZZI ING With McMahon back again it looks as if the Orioles had a cinch on the pennant. McMahon pitched good ball, but not a whit better than Varney Anderson. It was a great day for Anderson. He had plenty of speed and a good curve and kept the Orioles guessing from start to finish, The sluggers like Kelley and Keeler couldn't touch him. McGraw, that foxy little player worked in a bunt or two and Gleason got a couple of good singles. These were the only ones to find Anderson more than once. In all nine hits were made off Varney and had he been perfectly supported Baltimore would have been shut out and the game would have been a tie. Baltimore's only run was made in the single get past him. Both teams fielded in great shape, the Orioles without ar error. Jennings and Keeler did some remarkably good work and cut off som promising chances to score. The Sens tors, too, were right there in the field Their play was marred by only one erro and some wonderfully brilliant cha-

SELBACH CAUGHT NAPPING. Shieleck played a good game around short and Joyce covered third to the Queen's taste, in fact, the infield was e stonewall. Neither club scored until the sixth inning when Baltimore got the only run of the game. The Senators started off well in the first inning. Selbach singled and Joyce followed smit. Joyce was caught off first and ran down to second for-ing Selbach off. The latter was then caught between third and second and ran down. Cartwright struck out, and McGuire flie to Kelley spoiling a promising chance for

In the fourth juning the Orioles came close to scoring. McGraw bunted and beat the ball and got around to third on Glea-sons' bit to right. Brodle hit to Joyce and McGraw was caught at the pinte on close decision. The Oricles made the usual sick but it didn't go. Carey was hit by a priched ball and the bases were full. It was a ticklish moment for the Senators with Robinson a good tatter coming up but Anderson was equal to the emergency. He put on steam and Robbie popped up a foul fly which Jim McGuire clutched and

FIRST AND LAST RUN. In the sixth the Orioles scored their lone run. Jennings hit to Joyce and retired at first. McGraw hit a hot one to center and tried to make a double of it, but was caught on Abbey's throw to second. Gleason singled to right. Brodie hit a hot grounder into center and Abbey let it get past him. This scored Gleason and but Brodie on third. Carey ended the inning

Crooks had struck out and Schiebeck had relified on a grounder to Carey. Anderson caught a high curve and sent it into left. Selbach followed with a corking double along third base line. With men on second and third and "Scrappy" Bill coming up the Orioles got a little nervous. Joyce men the first ball pitched and sent it flying into deep right field, but while Keeler, by a wonderful sprint, got under it and pulled it down and the jig was up.

The game was intensely exciting throughout and the Baltimore rooters did not dare to draw a long breath until the last man in the minth liming was out. The Semitors are playing great ball just now and the Baltimore people are beginning to entertain a profound respect for them. The two teams meet in Washington Monday. Hoffer will pitch for Baltimore.

Flushed with the victory won the previous day, the Y. M. C. A. baseball team started in the very first inning to annihilate the Boston House Stars yesterday after noon at the Capitol ball park, corner of G and North Capitol streets.

It was the first appearance of the Boston Stars, and the Y. M. C. In the sixth the Stars pulled themseives together, and with assistance of two errors by their opponents marked up five

Up to this time the Y. M. C. A. kep Rosseau in the pitcher's box as an experi-ment, but they did not care to let it cost them the game, so at the opening of the seventh Morrison was sent from first base to pitch. He was too much for the Stars, who, during the remaining three include, only succeeded in getting one more run.

The Stars played a pretty fair article of ball, and individually are a lot of

Two Young Men to Travel 30,000 Miles in Fourteen Months.

Only Two Dollars in Each Man's Pocket When They Leave the Capitol To-morrow Morning.

A wager has been accepted in this city the outcome of which will prove interesting. Charles H. Taylor, of this city and Archibald Coleman, of Chicago, have agreed to forfeit $500 if they fail to comply with the following conditions: To start from this city Monday, August 5, at 11 a. m., with but $2 between them and cover 30,000 miles within fourteen months.

It is stipulated that they are not to receive any pecuniary assistance whatever from personal friends or relatives, and that they shall touch England, South Africa, India, China, and Japan.
These young men, both aged twenty-one, came to this city recently with the intention of entering the Georgetown University law school in the fall, but they have agreed to postpone their college career one year, in order to carry out their wager. They intend to make journalism an important factor of their trip, and The Times expects interesting articles concerning their experiences en route. They will start from the Capitol steps and proceed to the Baltimore and Ohio depot, where they will make their first expenditure for tickets to Baitimore, where they will endeavor to ship for Liverpool or London. Should they be unable to ob-tain a ship in Baitimore they will proceed to Philadelphia or New York as best they can, entoracing the first opportunity that may present itself. may precent-isself.

OVERRUN WITH THIEVES

Unusual Activity of the Light-Fingered Gentry in Washington.

Sneaks and Pickpockets Particularly Abound-Some Onite During Operations.

Sneaks and other petry thieves have been reaning a harvest by their peculations dur ing the post sixty hours. On Friday and yesterday twenty thefts were reported to Inspector Hollinberger. One of the head-quarters detectives said inst night that this city is overrun by small thieves, with a sprinkling of the more desperate burglar.

The biggest hand made vesterday was in Anacostia. A house-breaker after entering the premises of Mrs. R. C. Forts, No. 427 Harrison street, proceeded to her sleeping apartment, and then, it is said, coloroformed the lady. The daring thief then secured $242, which Mrs. Forts had secreted about her garments.

An unknown pickpocket got in his work at the baseball park yesterday. He dipped into the pockets of Mr. Charles E. Thorne, of No. 218 O street northwest, and secured a roll of bills amounting to $103. The clever work of this thief led the police to believe that he is a professional pick-pocket who drifted to Washington from the East.

A sneak thief stole a new suit of clothes from room 134 in the Arlington Hotel The stolen goods belonged to Harry Bel-ville, the plumber at the above hostelry. Chicken thieves are also prowling about in the early morning. Cicero Beckham, of No. 2721 N street ortnhwest, reports to headquarters that six game hens were A sneak entered the room of Mrs. Martha Grant, No. 359 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, and got away with a pair of gold sleeve buttons and $1 in cash. while William O. Thornton, of No. 1245 Twelfth street southeast, was in awimming near Twining City, opposite Congressional Cemetery, a white boy came along the shore and stole his gold spectacles, shoes, socks, hat and other articles of apparel, Thornton finally secured some clothing and Thorston finally secured some cooling and went to his hours.

A lot of hardware, valued at $20, the property of Ed J. Hannan, of No. 517 Eleventh street northwest, was stolen by an unknown thief from a new building on F street, between Second and Third streets ortheast. An old-fashioned Colt's revolver was stolen from Fred. Wetzel's house of Ridge road, in the county, and the theft has been reported to headquarters. A pair of pants and $7 were stolen from L. Stod-dard, of No. 622 M street northwest, and a lot of lewelry and $3.80 in cash from Chas W. Segar, of No. 1016 Third street south-Sons and Daughters of Maine.

The attendance at the regular meeting of the Sons and Daughters of Maine, at their regular meeting, last evening at their rooms, No. 707 G street northwest, was very good and an enjoyable programme was presented by Mr. O. H. Briggs, chairman of the entertainment committee. The par-ticipants were Prof. Samuel Ramsey, Miss A. W. Lamson, Mr. Charles L. Patten, Mrs. H. B. Sperry, Mr. George W. Hall, Mrs. Marian Longfellow, O'Donoghue, Mr. C. E. Crowell, Miss Fernald, Mrs. Rixford and

WAGER OF GLOBE TROTTERS MEANT TO TRY HANGING

Tragic Death of Fifteen-Year-Old Victor Malnati.

FOUND DEAD IN THE SHED

Had Fastened the Noose Around His Neck, and Swinging Off From a Bin, Could Not Get Back and Was Strangulated-Discovered by His Sister-Idea of Suicide Scouted.

His features distorted with pain, fifteen rear-old victor Mainati was found dead and tanging from a rope in the outhouse of his father's residence, No. 818 East Capitol sireet resterday morning.

The lad's father, Mr. Antonio Malnatt, a contractor. When he left home in the morning to go up town, the parent said Victor was in a most cheerful most. He had been watching his pet kittens at play in the side yard.

Victor's death was investigated by Coroner Hammett as well as by the boy's parents. Their theory is that the boy, who is quite a heavy-weight, went into the shed, where he had fitted up a sort of gymnasium. He had read the details of the recent langings at the last, and had ex-pressed himself as curious to know how it felt to dangle at the end of a noise. This curiosity on Victor's part proved fatal, 19 is believed.

The rope from which he was found hangng was suspended from a hook in one of he rafters. Below the rope is a hin, the outer boards of which are about two feet from the flooring of the shed. It is believed Victor stood upon the edge of the bio, arranged the noise about his neck, and swang outward from the bin. His intention, no doubt, was to swing backward and release the rope from his neck after be had gotten a taste of how a harging telt. He missed his footing, however, and the boose tightened about his neck, producing strangulation and of course preenting the unfortunate boy from make venting the unfortunate boy from making an outery. This was the coroner's view of the matter, and he gave a certificate of accidental death.

The discovery of the remains was made by Miss Jenne Malmati, the halfs slater, about 7:30 e'clock, Breakfast was on the table and Victor having disappeared the roung hay went to the back door and called him. There was no response. She had seen him eater the shed and hurried to the door of that structure.

The sight which met her gaze, she said, horrified her.
